Lone Raid Beyond Enemy's Lines.By Associated Press AMSTERDAM, July 10.—A newspaper of Amsterdam, Holland, reports that Dutch workmen who were laid off at the Krupp works on account of the destruction of buildings in the recent French air raids, assert that a quarter of the Essen plant was destroyed.The material damage is placed at millions of francs and it is said that 100 employees were killed and hundreds of others, including 15 French prisoners, wounded.One and possibly two French airplanes dropped bombs on Essen last Friday. The official German report of the raid said only two bomb holes were found.FRENCH SERGEANT TELLS OF RAID ON ESSEN PLANT.
GRAND HEADQUARTERS OF THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, July 10.— The most daring air raid yet carried out against the great Krupp munition works at Essen was recounted to a staff correspondent of the Associated Press by Sergt. Maxime Gallio, who defied all the German anti-aircraft defenses and bombarded the heart of the German armament producing factories with high explosives, causing many thousands of francs' worth of damage.The whole flight lasted seven hours, during which the daring French aviator was guided only by the moon and stars and the compass, as the voyage was made in the darkest hours of the night, the destination being reached exactly according to plan. Sergt.
Gallio narrated his story in the simplest manner. He said:"Four of Lieutenant de Perduduer, Sergeant Durand, another comrade and myself, left our base at nightfall Friday with the intention of reaching Essen. Soon afterward we ran into foggy weather and lost sight of each other. I flew at an altitude of 1,200 meters and passed over Metz and Thionville, following the course of the Moselle, which, however, rapidly disappeared in the mist.""At Treves I saw a heavy bombardment, which I calculated was directed at my comrades. Therefore I knew I was traveling in the right direction.
Arriving over Essen I rose to about two thousand meters. I circled around, searching for a place where the lights from the workshops appeared dimly.""Then I threw the first bomb. After counting 10, I dropped the second, and then the remainder of the 10 I carried, at similar intervals. I could not tell whether the bombs exploded, but they probably did. It was impossible to distinguish their effect, owing to the dense furnace chimneys.""I was thoroughly exhausted and was suffering from dry eyes, which as I had lost both pairs of goggles at the start, and was obliged to put my head outside in order to see the directions. When reaching the base, owing to the darkness, I could not tell exactly where I was. I thought possibly I was still over the German lines and decided to continue westward as long as the petrol lasted. I had a few flares left and was driving onward when suddenly I recognized a pre-arranged signal and managed to land just at dawn at the same place from which I had departed. The distance covered was 750 kilometers (465 miles)."RUSSIAN OFFENSIVE NOT STOPPED BY POLISH ATTACKS.
PETROGRAD, July 10.—General Kornilov's offensive in Eastern Galicia continues, says today's official Russian war department statement, despite the energetic resistance and stubborn counter attacks of the Austrians. Additional villages have been captured. More than 1,000 prisoners were taken yesterday. The Russians also captured three field guns, many trench mortars and machine guns and a quantity of war materials.The statement says the enemy has retreated to the Lomnica river. In two days the Russians penetrated to a depth of six and two-third miles west of Stanislaw.REPORT KAISER SOUGHT RESIGNATIONS
OF TWO SECRETARIESVice Chancellor Helfrich and Secretary of Foreign Affairs Zimmermann May Quit.By Associated Press LONDON, July 10.—It is reported in Amsterdam, says the correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company, that the resignation of Dr. Karl Helfrich, the German vice chancellor and secretary of the interior, and Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, the German secretary for foreign affairs, have been decided upon, by Emperor William.VON BETHMANN HOLLWEG'S FATE HANGS IN BALANCE.COPENHAGEN, July 10.—Although it is difficult to gain a clear impression of the political crisis in Germany from conflicting accounts in German papers and dispatches sent abroad, Reichstag leaders were expected to be settling this afternoon or evening in council upon a declaration of policy.
This, according to some, would decide the fate of Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg and the present governmental system while others declare it would end the whole crisis.
The party leaders were concerned chiefly with the question of the chancellor's position. Those for or against new blood in the ministry and a change in the political system and questions of submarine policy and peace conditions were given only secondary consideration.BERKMAN AND EMMA GOLDMAN CONVICTEDNEW YORK, July 10.—Alexander Berkman, who served a prison term for an attempt upon the life of H. C.
Frick in Pittsburgh several years ago, and Emma Goldman, anarchist, were convicted yesterday of conspiracy to obstruct the draft and sentenced to serve two years in federal prison, the northern end of the Russian front, the official statement added, fighting between the Germans and Russians has increased.WIRE OF BARRICADE FOR INTERNED GERMAN CITIZENSATLANTA, July 10.—German sailors interned at Fort McPherson had no knowledge of a hole being cut in their wire barricade, army officers conducting an investigation said today. The cutting was done from the outside and without co-operation of the Germans.

A sentinel detained last night still will bring him today. It was learned he is a native of Poland.ALLEGED SPY HAD MAPS OF U. S. MUNITIONS PLANTSHAMMOND, Ind., July 10.—Carl Kaufman, thought by the police to have been a German agent, was arrested here today. The police say he had furnished drawings of local munitions plants and a considerable correspondence with persons in Germany.MASS SAYS SPY CRAZE POSSESSES GOVERNMENT
WASHINGTON, July 10.—Republican Leader Mann declared in the House today that hysteria and "spy craze" possessed the administration.
He was speaking in opposition of a trade-with-the-enemy bill designed to permit the President to designate alien enemies."The departments have gone crazy," he said. "They see a German spy on every housetop and street corner.
We have to carry on that way but that is no reason why we should be accused to death." Mr. Mann's remarks were received in silence by the House.Shipyard Burned.
EAST BOOTH BAY, Me., July 10.— The shipbuilding plant of Rice brothers was destroyed by fire today, to-tons, compared with the figures for May 31, according to the monthly reports issued today.ALLIES EXPECT BREAKOFF TO TAKE LEMBERG AND OTHER IMPORTANT PLACESGeneral Brusilov, in command of the present Russian offensive in Galicia, headed the Russian advance last year, which was halted, it is asserted, not so much by the Teutonic defense as by pro-German treachery in Russia itself. Now that the army seems determined to advance and the government will support its movements, they look forward to the capture of Lemberg and other important places. Pictures show General Brusilov and a map of the points at which the reorganized Russian army is attacking the Austro-German line in Galicia.

Kontulch was taken and in advance was made southwest of Brzezany. The Give Something to Company Fund!One hundred and fifty members of Company D, Tenth Regiment, will soon go marching away to war. Every effort is being made to take care of the boys from the time they leave here until camp is opened, but no matter how well regulated the mobilization is there will be times when the boys will go hungry unless they have money to buy food for themselves. And a hundred and one things will come up where money will be needed and for which the army regulations make no provision.For this purpose every company commander tries to accumulate what is called a Company Fund. This is used to purchase food to supply the men from their arrival in camp until the issue of rations gets into proper working order. It is not expended for luxuries, any soldier will tell you that. And no "chocolate drops" are bought with it.Company D hasn't much of a Company Fund now but it will have before it leaves the city. The movement started in the Sunday Schools to swell this fund will have good results. You can help.Send your contribution to Captain R. S. Morton or to The Courier. Rest assured that the fund will be put to good use, and in it's use the boys of Company D, whether they are in the mobilization camp or the trenches of northern France, will never feel that the "folks back home" have been unkind of their comfort.SUNDAY SCHOOLS TO HELP RAISE FUND FOR COMPANY DPresbyterian and Lutheran Churches Will Take Up Special Collections.PASTORS BOOST THE PLANA collection will be taken up in the Presbyterian Sunday school next Sunday for Company D's "company fund." The plan to thus aid in freeing the lot of the soldier boys from some of its hardships originated with the W.

A. Little Bible class but it spread to the entire school and all will be given an opportunity to contribute. Rev.
J. L. Proudfoot, who is in hearty accord with the movement, is doing considerable boosting for it.Special Red, White and Blue envelopes have been distributed to members of Trinity Lutheran Sunday school and church members in which contributions to the Company Fund are to be returned on Sunday, July 29.
In this way it is expected to raise quite a good-sized sum for the soldier boys.PENNSYLVANIA GUARD TO BE CALLED OUT JULY 15WASHINGTON, July 10.—With a stroke of the pen yesterday afternoon President Wilson called the national guard of all states into federal service for a period of six months. The Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska guardians are to be federalized by July 15, nearly a month earlier than the other states. Soldiers of 19 other states are to be called July 25.Fourteen camp sites for the 16 tactical divisions will be organized for war purposes. It is not known where the Pennsylvania troops will be sent.

Adjutant General Slovins has made a fight for Mount Gretna as the camp site but they may be sent South.VACANCY EXISTS ON NO. 6 to serve on the Fifth district exemption board and W. S. Colborn of Mill Run has been recommended as his successor. The other members of the

Dr. H. J. Hazlett of Vanderburg.COMPANY D HAS 50 UNIFORMS LAST NIGHTCompany D had one of the largest turnouts in recent drills at the armory last evening when about 80 men answered the roll call. The drill was conducted in the open air last evening. A flood light on the armory joining.Although the War Department has officially announced that the captured uniforms will be ordered to mobilize by Sunday, July 15, Captain R. S.

Morton has not yet received any orders to that effect. He expects them by Thursday, which will give him three days to assemble the company.Thursday evening Captain Morton will take in a few recruits as mus-ketiers. Captain Bryce, in charge of the supply company has informed Captain Morton that he needs about 10 drivers who can handle four wheel teams. The physical examination will be given the applicants at the armory Thursday evening.Captain Morton told his men to expect a call in a few days. For the benefit of new members he outlined a list of things each should provide.

Shown to Council.Plans for the Snydertown sewer, one of the four sewers whose construction constitutes a big part of the city's street program, were presented to council last night by City Engineer S. M. Foust. No action was taken on the plans, nor was it decided when the work would be begun, as it is planned to undertake the work on all four of the big new sewer systems at once.The other sewers are to be laid in the Third ward, the South Side, and the West Side. Negotiations with the Pennsylvania railroad have been under way for some time to have the railroad take care of the storm sewer end of the Third ward system.Council spent a long time last night in looking over Engineer Foust's blueprints of the Snydertown sewer.GOING TO MONTREAL.Donald M. Scott to Take Position With

DEPARTMENT MEN
ASK BIG INCREASECops Want a Jump From $75 to $90 a Month, Firemen From $70 to $80.COUNCIL TO DECIDE LATERRaises Certain, But Hardly Likely to Go as High as Amount Asked; Property Owners on Crawford Between 9th and 12th Must Lay Walks.Members of the paid fire department and the policemen asked council for a raise in wages last night. The firemen want about $10 increase, and the police $15 more a month. The firemen presented a plan by which the city could get the same services from the department and yet lay off one of the present members of the department.
In order that the increase might not raise expenses. Under this plan, the six firemen remaining would take less time off, and the same number would always be on duty as under the present arrangement, with seven employed. The police presented no such plan, and their increase will mean a new appropriation for the police department. Both firemen and police will be granted an increase, the amounts to be decided at a meeting of council as a committee of the whole on Friday afternoon. The firemen now get $70 a month and want $80. The police get $75 and want $90. The chief of police and the city detective are not included, but the assistant chief would have to be given a raise, as he is now getting only $85. Firemen and police have had one raise of $5 this year.Councilmen John Duggan and M. B.
Pryce expressed themselves as being in favor of the raise. "We're paying little enough for the police department," Mr. Duggan said. "We've got a pretty efficient force, and we ought to try to take care of them." Councilman L. L. West wanted to know where the money was coming from, since all the appropriations up to January 1 had been made, and there is only a difference of about $20 between the tax duplicate and the appropriations. Plans for making a new appropriation will be discussed at Friday's meeting. Whether the firemen and police will get the increases asked is a question. The councilmen did not seem to favor going as high as $15 on the police.Solicitor E. C. Higbee told council of the new state law providing for civil service for police. Under this law, the present police retain their positions without taking examinations, but should they quit and want to return to the force, they would have to be examined by a board consisting of physician, educator, and layman, the three elected by council, and be placed on a waiting list according to their grades. Council then selects a new officer from the first three on the list. Under this law, no police can be removed from his place by politics, or by anything but by having a definite charge of wrongdoing proven against him. There is a similar act for firemen. Council took no action toward choosing an examining board. The law, Solicitor Higbee said, is already in effect, but the last patrolman on the force here was chosen in the old way, by the mayor.The claims of Harry Crossland and A. S. Haddock for damages to their properties through change in grade of the New Haven hill, West Crawford avenue, when it was paved some years ago, were presented. Solicitor Higbee advised that these claims be settled for the cost of paving, which has never been paid, but said he would not include back taxes, which are also owed by the Crossland and Haddock properties. Their claims are for $400 each.Property owners on West Crawford street, from Ninth to Twelfth streets, will be forced to lay cement sidewalks. According to Mr. Duggan, a little girl, walking in the street because there are no sidewalks, was recently struck by an automobile and suffered a broken collarbone. It was now time, he said, that sidewalks be laid, and such accidents prevented in the future. City Clerk A. O. Exler will send out notices to the property owners along Crawford avenue shortly.S. S. Stacy and J. W. Stauffer appeared before council to complain that the pavement laid before their South Pittsburgh street properties by C. W. Bettler last year, by order of the city, are in bad shape. The coating has peeled off and the pavements bulged up and split. Mr. Stacy said that City Engineer S. M. Foust had approved the work, and he thought the council should urge Mr. Bettler to relay the pavements. The concrete contractor told the Pittsburgh street people some time ago that he would do this, but that he wanted to see "how far it would go" before doing so. Council, Mr. Bettler, and the property owners will meet at the spot soon and go into the matter further.
Mr. Stacy thought council should take the matter up, since the walks were evidently not laid under the city specifications.The bill of the Travelers' Insurance company for $502.37 for insurance for the volunteer firemen was presented, and taken charge of by Superintendent of Public Safety M. B.
Pryce.

THE RAILROADS ARE PLEASED WITH THE NEW COAL PLAN

Will Conserve Interests of the Carriers and Also of the Public.

ASSURES STEADY MARKET

For All Coal Production at a Fair Margin and Makes Possible a More Equitable Distribution of Output and a Much Better Car Service.

The understanding arrived at by the coal production committee of the Council of National Defense and the coal operators of the country regarding the distribution and marketing of coal, is the occasion of much congratulation to the railroads, particularly those operating in the Pittsburgh district, a large proportion of whose tonnage comprises that commodity.

By it not only will the operators be assured of markets for all their production, with a fair margin of profit to themselves, the interests of the consumer being safeguarded at the same time but the carriers, enabled to distribute the supply more equitably than at present, thereby avoiding a glut at one point, the immediate return to service of cars employed in the traffic being an especially desirable feature. At the same time they will retain control of their own equipment, says P. A. Layman, railroad editor of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. A high-placed official of one of the railroads operating in Pittsburgh and which is one of the greatest coal producers in the country, making of the arrangement, said: "The production of coal is increasing continually, which, in conjunction with the prohibition of hoarding, which the new plan will effect automatically, will regulate supply, and bring prices to a proper level. It would, in my opinion, have been very unwise to put into effect untitled methods that almost certainly would have interfered with the close cooperation already existing between the government and the railroads, and it is with much satisfaction that the latter learned that the coal operators and the Defense Council's committee, which assures an adequate supply of fuel to the country and at reasonable prices.

"Hitherto coal loaded at the mines throughout the country during May was considerably in excess of the tonnage for the corresponding month of last year, while figures for the first half of the current month indicate that the increase in production and shipments are continuing. Altogether, then, the mines have broken all records thus far this year, as have the railroads in handling their output, notwithstanding the handicap of inadequate car supply under which they have operated.

"This latter feature has been mitigated somewhat of late by the operation of the bureau directed by P. C. Baird, freight traffic manager of the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, which has agents at all Lake Erie coal shipping ports who see to it that coal destined to upper lake ports and arriving at any one of them is unloaded promptly and the cars brought to the mine, to be loaded for more. It would appear as though the arrangement effected at Washington will work more to the advantage of producer, carrier and consumer alike than any other that has been suggested."

THE PARAMOUNT.

"HER BETTER SELF"—A five part Paramount feature, with Pauline Frederick, the screen's greatest emotional actress, in the leading role, is being presented today. Miss Frederick is supported by a cast of unusual excellence, including Thomas Meighan, who has been seen with the famous actress in most of her recent productions. The story deals with Vivian Tyler, pampered daughter of wealthy parents, who are trying to persuade her to marry Baron Bellot. Vivian, an enthusiastic charity worker, comes to their house for dinner one evening for the purpose of cutting a handsome subscription. There he meets Vivian and the two are instantly attracted to each other. The man, however, realizing the difference in their lives, tells her that they can never marry, as she could not endure even a week of his life. Vivian wishes to make the test and goes to his sanatorium to help and mingle with his co-workers. She finds the work hard and disagreeable, but does not give it up. But this evening after attending a session of the night court, where Keith has rescued a girl, weak with hunger and illness, she gives up the attempt and goes to her home, leaving a note for Keith. It is not the hardships which cause her to take this step but the finding of a picture of Keith in a locker worn by the girl he has rescued. Tomorrow, Charles Ray will appear in "The Clodhopper," a five part Triangle production.

THE ARCADE.

Compelled to take so many encores that he stopped the show for a half an hour at the Arcade last night, Polliano, the wizard of the piano-accordion, scored the biggest hit of any performer ever in Connellsville. It was the climax of one of the best light musical comedy offerings ever in Connellsville. Jack Corbett's Dream Girls, who more than pleased capacity audiences at this popular family theatre. Their opening offering was "Patsy, the Bellboy," taken from the original production of Billy B. Van's "The Grand Boy." Mr. Corbett portrays the character of Patsy, Selma Forester is a prima donna of real merit and there is a chorus of pretty girls. The company carries its own scenery and electrical effects. Also two special features both worth special mention: Polliano, the wizard of the accordion, and Miss Gertrude Lynch, that "Don't-Care Blonde." The show in its entirety will be repeated this afternoon and evening.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

"HINTON'S DOUBLE"—Fredrick Wardle, the celebrated star appears in "Hinton's Double" today. It is his first modern role and he acts with the same finesse that characterizes his work in the classics, and he lends the dignity and strength of his great personality to an interesting and thrilling story of double identity. Also a good comedy will be shown. Tomorrow, "Final Payment," a five reel William Fox drama will be shown. Thursday, "The Sergeant's Tooth," stars Gail Kane. A strong story of a girl who weds the wrong man for riches and who pays the penalty imposed by the fast set until honest love comes to aid.

LIQUOR PROVISIONS THOUGHT UNCONSTITUTIONAL

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Increased difficulties today beset the administration's food control bill with its drastic prohibition features.

Convinced that the bill is "loaded down" and that the liquor provisions or government purchase of all distilled spirits is unconstitutional and either must be amended or stricken out, Senate leaders held conferences while the debate proceeded on the floor in an effort to devise an amendment to pave the way for final passage of the bill.

The Democratic committee met before the Senate convened, but was unable to reach an agreement, and action was deferred.

ANOTHER SHIPPER OF COKE BY BARGE

Owners of Denbo Plant in Fifth Pool Have Completed Arrangements to Transport Product by Water.

The Reliance Coal & Coke company, operators of the Denbo plant of 235 rectangular ovens on the Monongahela river a short distance south of Lock No. 6, and also opposite the Allegha No. 1 plant of W. Harry Brown, have recently completed arrangements whereby the entire output of their ovens can now be loaded into barges from the ovens and shipped by water to a very profitable market.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel company, through the Vesta Coal company, which is the fuel producing department of the big steel company, has contracted to take the entire output of the company, and it will be towed in Vesta barges from Denbo to Allegha, on the Ohio, where it will be unloaded at the big furnaces at that point.

W. Harry Brown and the H. C. Frick Coke company have been making shipments of coke by barge for a considerable period. Improvements are in progress at a number of plants and contemplated at still others in the upper Monongahela valley which, when completed, will add materially to the tonnage sent to market by water transportation.

NEED OF A COMPANY FUND.

In the news accounts of the departure of the Fifth regiment of United States Engineers for an unannounced destination, there is presented a striking illustration of the need of a military organization having for a company fund.

Because of some reason not publicly stated this regiment was ordered to leave in haste and in such a manner that it was not possible for the men to take with them more than a few days' rations. Through some hitch in the commissary department the rations issued were short of the requirements and the boys had nothing to eat all of one day. This is not an unusual occurrence in the movement of troops, in fact it rarely happens that a mobilization takes place without the commissary supplies failing to reach destination with the same dispatch as the men. Unless the men are provided with ample rations when enlisting, which is rarely done in the case of volunteer organizations, they arrive at the point of detaining with scant food supplies on hand. If the commissary supplies have not arrived in advance, and rations are not ready to be made, it follows that the men feel pangs of hunger before the issuing of rations is in proper order.

To provide men with extra rations to cover just such emergencies as are here mentioned is one of the uses of a company fund. With it the proper officer of the company can secure a supply of food to tide the men over the period during which the commissary is catching up with the movements of the organization comprising the command.

Connellsville did not want any of boys of Company D of the Hospital Corps to suffer the same experience the boys of the Engineers did while enroute to the mobilization camp, and for that reason there will be a liberal response to an appeal to provide an ample company fund.

OUR AIRPLANE ARMY.

The energy with which the War Department has taken hold of the work of creating a great air force and the equipment is not surprising when we consider for a moment the quantity of opinion in army and government circles generally upon the necessity and value of this service in the war. Congress, too, has grasped the importance of promptly meeting the situation and has appropriated $500,000,000 for the construction of 35,000 airplanes of a new and improved type and the equipment of 21 great aviation fields for the instruction and training of an army of aviators, estimated to number 50,000 within the next 12 months. At the same time the navy has plans under way calling for the expenditure of $16,000,000 for the same purpose.

A study of the progress of the war, and the use of the airplane as the scout of the armies, has brought competent authorities to agreement upon the proposition that the bellicent nation which secures on the battlefield the best airplane equipment, in point of numbers, skill and daring of its aviators, will be the deciding factor in winning the war.

The Wright brothers, builders of the first man-carrying flying machine, thought their invention would end wars, but subsequent events have proven that in the present war neither side has been able to win on account of the part the airplane has played. The two sides being nearly equal in aerial equipment, the struggle will continue for years or until one side or the other is able to assemble such a stupendous air army as to be able to literally sweep the air clear of enemy planes and thus out of the present available means the armies have of directing gun fire and making observations of the opposing forces behind the firing lines.

Here then is America's opportunity to win the war. If we can provide men and build machines to form an air army of such size and efficiency as will enable it to acquire and maintain supremacy of the air, we will win the war and win it very shortly after such a force is placed in action. That is what we are determined and will be able to do. The government and Congress are awake to the possibilities of creating a preponderant air force, and are making it as adequately as our land and sea forces. Yankee genius gave the world the flying machine with the expectation that it would make wars impossible. We now have the opportunity to prove that this purpose can be accomplished through bringing to an end what may be the last great world war of history.

DECREASED COKE PRODUCTION.

With the statistics of pig iron and Connellsville coke production during the first half of the year available, means are at hand to concretely measure the effect of the decreased coke output as well as to determine the cause of the shrinkage. At the same time the importance of the by-product coke oven as a factor in iron making becomes more manifest.

"Two interesting pieces of statistical information," says the American Metal Market, "which have a bearing on each other, are as follows:

The German Soldier's Idea of What He is Fighting For.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9.—Stanley Washburn, the war correspondent who is at the present time serving on the staff of the American Commission to Russia, headed by Ethel Root, analyzes the attitude of mind of the German soldier and his idea of what he is fighting for, in a communication to the National Geographic Society, a part of which the society issues as the following bulletin of its war geography series:

"It is difficult for Americans to realize the discipline and lack of intellectual initiative which exists in the German army and among the German people.

"Ever since he became Emperor, Wilhelm has been instilling his extraordinary beliefs into his army and into his people, until today we have a psychology in the Teuton empire which will probably make it possible for the military autocracy to continue the war to a far greater length than would be conceivable in any other country in the world.

"In the early attitudes the Kaiser sounded the keynote of his own character and point of view in a speech he made to a regiment in northern Germany, when he said to them: 'I could rather see my forty-five million Prussians dead on the field of battle than see one foot of the soil taken in 1870 given back to France.'

"And several years later, in addressing a body of recruits in Potsdam, the Kaiser is reported to have said: 'Now that you have denied my uniform it must be your pleasure and your duty to follow my wishes, realizing that I rule Germany by the direct will of God, and you must, willingly obey my commands, even though I require you to shoot down your own fathers and brothers in response to my wishes.'

"With such ideas as these instilled into the German Army and German people year by year, we must not believe that at the first sign of reverse they will forget the teachings of forty years and demand consummation of immediate peace, and we must likewise realize that a revolution in Germany at this time has far less opportunity for success, for there is every probability that the German soldiers would die upon their own people with the same subservience to their officers that they show in all their military operations.

"While the military operations in the west are of vast importance to the situation and must unquestionably demoralize the Germans to a certain extent of coke and anthracite pig iron in the United States as follows, in gross tons:

|-----------------|------------|
| First half 1916 | 19,410,463 |
| First half 1917 | 19,059,892 |
| Decrease | 350,571 |

"The Connellsville Courier reports production of coke in the Connellsville and lower Connellsville regions as follows, in net tons:

|-----------------|------------|
| First half 1916 | 11,639,225 |
| First half 1917 | 9,247,113 |
| Decrease | 2,392,112 |

"The average number of furnaces in blast was 314½ for the first half of last year and 327½ for the first half of this year. Thus more pig iron would have been expected. As everyone interested knows, there has been a shortage of coke the first half of this year, while there was none the first half of last year. The coke shortage accounted undoubtedly for a greater curtailment of pig iron production than the actual decrease. Given sufficient coke, the furnaces nonstop in operation would have produced more pig iron this year than was produced the first half of last year. There were, furthermore, some furnaces idle throughout the half year which would have been blown in if there had been any prospect of their getting coke. The Carnegie Steel company blew out some furnaces in December because it was foreseen that there would be only so much coke, and to try to operate those furnaces would have meant so much less for other furnaces, and with the same amount of coke, the pig iron production per ton of coke would have been reduced.

"Now The Courier statistics show that the production of coke in the Connellsville region suffered a large decrease, 2,392,000 net tons. As practice has been running these days a trifle more than a net ton of coke is required per gross ton of pig iron, so that the Connellsville coke shortage, other things being equal, would account for fully 2,000,000 tons greater decrease in pig iron production than actually occurred. This was made up by by-product coke, through the completion of additional capacity at various points. There may possibly have been an increase in beehive coke production in districts outside the Connellsville region, but this is to be doubted. It is fair to conclude that in the twelve-month there was additional by-product coke capacity equal to 4,000,000 tons of coke a year.

"It is certainly very unfortunate that pig iron production should have been curtailed simply by the railroads not furnishing the Connellsville coke region with cars, for that was the cause of the shortage in production. As often as not the Connellsville coke operators have a surplus of coke, for other people rather than themselves. They have made coke at no profit while their workmen and the railroads benefited. It has been an established trade and the railroads should have taken care of it fully, particularly when it is so profitable to them."

The railroads have made a brave attempt to meet the situation and have done so to the limit of their resources, but unfortunately for both the coke and the iron trades the railroads failed to meet the conditions as were the coke operators and furnace men. These interests some years ago made plant extensions beyond the needs of normal times, in anticipation of the usual annual rate of growth in consumptive demand of the country, and were able, had transportation facilities been adequate, to very largely increase their output. Meantime the railroad plants of the country have lost, I see no reason to believe that recent events in France have created a condition from which we may expect any immediate results looking towards peace.

"When we read that the French and English took 33,000 prisoners and 330 guns in the month of April, we must, of course, rejoice; but we must at the same time guard against an optimism which leads to the belief that our only duty in this war is financial and economic.

"These losses of the Germans, while encouraging, are in reality but a drop in the bucket. It might be well to remember that Brusiloff, in a little over two months' operation on the southwestern front of Russia, during the summer of 1916 took 480,000 prisoners and 495 guns; and yet this far greater loss to the enemy, as one now realizes, has exerted but transitory influence on the world situation.

"In order fully to appreciate the Teuton strength, it is necessary to see the Germans the credit which is their due. One must, I think, consider broadly their whole point of view and realize that the power of the Central Empire, and no one at this time will question its strength, is due to the German virtues and not to the German vices.

"Now that the bitterness against the Germans is so intense it is difficult to wipe away the prejudices one feels and give them the benefit of the extraordinary values which they have as a people; but if we underestimate these virtues we fail to understand the causes which have made it possible for the Germans to do what they have done.

"Much as I disapprove of the German point of view and of the spirit which has been manifested by the Germans of nearly all classes in this war, I still remain of the opinion that, taken from the internal point of view, our enemies possess almost every virtue which makes for military strength.

"In the first place, no one who has seen and talked with the German troops can question the sincerity of their belief in the righteousness of the German cause. I have talked with prisoners from the Baltic to the Bukovina, and I have never yet met one who did not believe implicitly in the statement of the Kaiser, made at the beginning of the war, to the effect that 'in the midst of perfect peace we have been treacherously surprised by a ring of enemies jealous of our genius and intent on our destruction.'

not undergone any material enlargement. Faintness to the transportation interests compels the admission that they were unable, through lack of new capital, rather than unwilling, to provide against such conditions as have prevailed since the war began.

They are even wearing their patriotism higher in Hawaii than in some other sections of Uncle Sam's domain. Three thousand miles from the far away island of the Pacific are pleading to be sent to France.

Sunday varied the automobile casually record by smothering machines instead of men. A chance for the better.

Congratulations are due Reverend Father Burns who has served the longest pastorate in the history of Connellsville and is therefore dean of the city's pastors.

Uncle Sam is saying to the conscription official: "I have your number."

ECONOMY.
Economy is one of the last arts by which a $1 bill is made to work in two shifts.

When this country was first settled people were obliged to economize with the utmost order or starve standing up. Most of them decided to exercise strict economy and live on the frugal codfish, salt and beans but filling buckskin, and as a result great fortunes were accumulated, only to be dissipated later on by spendthrift sons who encouraged popular belief in the theory of a total vacuum. When we look back upon the life of our forefathers and see them practicing rigid economy during the early years, we are inclined to ask: Why economize for the benefit of people who will not use any of their own?

Benny is a beautiful sight in any home, but it can be overdone. Why is it that so many men will buy adding machines, cash registers, electric fans and gold-lined humidors for their offices and yet compel their wives to put up with the most drab and drab? The kind of economy which spends $4,000 on an electric fan and $10 on kitchen utensils is making it almost impossible to secure a hired girl who will stay long enough to find out the location of the wash tub.

When exercised regularly for a long period of years, economy becomes a habit and prevents a man from enjoying a picture show except as an invited guest. This is the trouble with economy. It not only keeps a man from enjoying a picture show except as an invited guest, but it also keeps him from church for fear of running into the missionary collection. More exacting economy is a practice in our churches than in any other avenue of life, which accounts for the crestfallen look on the ministerial countenance.

On the whole, however, considerable more economy could be used than is now being manufactured. It is getting to be the man who lives within his income, is regarded with suspicion and denied admittance to the country club. Thousands of men are building the mid-western cities in the effort to keep step with the income of some neighbor who has 100 acres and a bushel-bushel of bank stock. If we would all economize a little more, we would live longer and our creditors would be better represented at the funeral.

Thousands of men are building the mid-western cities in the effort to keep step with the income of some neighbor who has 100 acres and a bushel-bushel of bank stock. If we would all economize a little more, we would live longer and our creditors would be better represented at the funeral.

On the whole, however, considerable more economy could be used than is now being manufactured. It is getting to be the man who lives within his income, is regarded with suspicion and denied admittance to the country club. HOOPER & LONG'S

Senreco
The double-service tooth paste, keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggist or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste—25 cents for a large 2 ounce tube.

A Woman's Vacation.
One of our modern writers has said, "A woman is as efficient in business as a man—when she is."

The reason why sometimes she is not so efficient is that her health may fail. But the wise business woman knows now what to do when attacked by the ailments peculiar to the so-called "weaker sex." That greatest of all remedies for women's ills, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has been freeing women from such ailments for forty years. Try it, if you suffer from such an ailment, and insure your competency and efficiency in the business world.—Adv.

Canning Beets

Beet beets are best for canning, says today's bulletin from the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, which is co-operating with The Courier in a country-wide campaign against waste and for the conservation of the food supply of the nation. The older the beets the more change there is for loss of color. The most suitable size is when they run about 40 to the quart.

Select beets of uniform size, age and color and wash thoroughly with stiff vegetable brush. Leave an inch of the tops and all of the roots white, blanching as this will aid in prevention of loss of color. Blanch for six to eight minutes, plunge quickly into cold water for an instant, cut off tops and roots, and rub off skin—do not peel. Pack beets into jars, either whole or cut into such pieces as desired, add a level teaspoonful of salt per quart and fill with hot water.

Partially tighten tops and sterilize for an hour and a half to two hours. (The cans should be sealed completely before sterilization.) After complete sterilization, remove jars from the boiling water, tighten tops at once and invert to cool in a place free from draughts. Wrap jars in dark paper to prevent bleaching.

Beet tops for greens should be canned the day they are picked. Sort and clean very carefully, and blanch in steam for 15 minutes either in regular steamer or in other vessel so arranged that the greens may be suspended above a inch or two of boiling water. After blanching, plunge beet tops into cold water for an instant; then cut into desired lengths and pack tightly into jars. Add hot water to fill jars and season to taste. Partially tighten tops of jars and sterilize for an hour and a half. Remove jars from hot water and complete sealing, and place in an inverted position out of a draught to cool.

The small beets taken out of the rows in thinning may be canned with the greens and are very palatable if served in this manner. The process is the same as for canning the tops.

WHY YOU SHOULD NEVER PARE A CORN

If you are troubled with corns or callouses, do not run the risk of blood poisoning by paring them. Statistics show that many deaths have occurred from this seemingly innocent practice of paring corns.

Simply go to your drugstore and get a few cents worth of Iodine, rub a little on any painful corn or callus. Immediately the pain will disappear and in a short time the corn or callus will loosen and lift off easily with the fingers—root and all—leaving the surrounding skin in a healthy, normal condition.

Think, together with the fact that Iodine overcomes such afflictions as sore throat, itching, puffed or burning feet and makes them cool, easy and comfortable, is probably responsible for the hearty endorsement given it by druggists.

To rid one's feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes, or painful excruciating in such a pleasant and safe way, makes it seem the height of folly for anyone to pare a corn, and people are warned to stop it.—Adv.

GOOD WORK OF STATE SOLONSLegislature Put Through Many Meritorious Bills.

WILL BE JUDGED BY ACTS

Though Enemies Are Complaining That Recent Session Accomplished Nothing, an Examination of Its Labors Shows That People Will Be Benefited by New Laws.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 10.—Almost from the beginning of time it has been customary for certain newspapers in Pennsylvania, whose policies are distinctly anti-Republican, to make the charge after the close of every session of the legislature that nothing was accomplished. This declaration comes so regularly that no longer is it given any particular attention. People merely regard it as a favorite pastime of the enemy press and Republican leaders do not even take enough time out to refute the allegation.

HON. WILLIAM E. CROW.

Two years ago, following the ending of the 1916 legislature, the same cry was set up and echoed throughout the state. An examination of the laws put through in 1916 was sufficient answer, however, to this discordant note. Page after page of the pamphlet laws revealed the achievements of the Republican legislators. Women's compensation was established and extended to every possible set of employees; acts to benefit the living condition of the masses were passed and, in fact, an entire program of so-called reform legislation was followed by the legislative leaders of the Republican party. Notwithstanding this, the same time-worn complaint about the failure of the Republican legislature to perform for the state made its appearance at the close of the session.

The 1917 legislature can only be judged by what it has done. Critics may say its work was poor, but that does not make it so; nor would a lot of laudation without facts and figures prove it a good legislature. As they say in race track parlance, performance and nothing else count.

"Whether the work of the 1917 session was commendable or whether it was wholly unsatisfactory, is for the people to say," said Senator William E. Crow, chairman of the Republican state committee, a few days ago. "Personally I have no complaint to make. Perhaps, we could have done a lot better; surely, we could have done much worse."

Continuing Senator Crow said: "The session might have gotten through sooner. If adjournment had been fixed for about June 1 the members would have been in better shape and less fatigued for the closing days—which are the most important days. But under the circumstances as they existed it appeared impossible to wind up affairs before June 28 and in view of the final hours difference that cropped out over the general appropriation bill, we were lucky to get away when we did."

"Before the legislature met it was cautioned by the newspapers of the state to do nothing that might upset the people in a time like the present; that during the war a law the least states law-making body did the better off the people if the state would be one newspaper seriously advised us to make the usual appropriations to institutions and adjourn."

Legislation of Merit.

"Of course, this gratuitous advice about doing nothing could not be observed, nor was any attempt made to. For no man goes to the legislature without a bill in his pocket, some sort of a proposed law that he hopes to bring joy to his constituents and earn to his name. Consequently, the senate and house accepted every bill presented, deliberated upon them and this year's pamphlet laws will be as large as other years and in them the people will find some extraordinary good legislation."

But what I started to say in discussing the pre-session advice of certain newspapers is that they asked us to do nothing but it might disturb the populace, we refused to do nothing commendable things and new laws being newspapers declare that we did nothing and are protesting to lambaste us for our inactivity. The man who first said you cannot suit everybody certainly uttered gospel truth."

A usual examination into the work of the legislature shows Senator Crow to be quite correct when he states that some mighty good legislation was passed during the session just closed. It reaches and affects every man, woman and child in the state.

$20,000,000 For Roads.

Over $20,000,000 was appropriated for good roads during the past two years. The amounts to be used for state and state-aid highways and for the abolition of toll roads total $20,964,000. This is made up of over $10, 000,000 directly appropriated, added to $6,500,000 from automobile license fees, together with $1,975,000 for overhead charges of the highway department and $2,000,000 to be appropriated by municipalities to meet a like sum from the state on the state-aid plan.

A commission was authorized to look into the subject of health insurance and make report at the next legislature. It is believed the 1919 session will go into this matter fully and enact laws extending compensation to the sick and also to persons who meet with accidents and do not now come under the workmen's compensation law.

Five constitutional amendments were passed, thereby paving the way for changes in the state constitution. One of these authorizes issue of bonds to the extent of $50,000,000 to improve state highways. Another is to permit the legislature to levy a graded tax upon any subject of taxation and a third is to permit the legislature to regulate the incorporation of institutions with banking or discounting privileges. The other two pertain only to the county of Philadelphia.

A bill was passed appropriating $2,000,000 for state defense during the war. With Germany and in addition $2,000,000 bonds were authorized to meet any possible emergency. A war board consisting of the governor, lieutenant governor, state treasurer, auditor general and adjutant general, was formed to supervise the work of state defense.

A series of bills pertaining to the duties of decedents went through and as they are based upon a report of a commission that gave two years' study to the subject, it is safe to say that Pennsylvania is in the forefront of states having complete and comprehensive legislation on this subject. This will greatly clarify the work of the courts in the various counties.

A game code was passed, followed by a fish code and a code for the sale of the last word in effective and protective legislation on these important subjects. In addition, a dog bill for the protection of the wolf dogs was enacted into a law.

Cities and Boroughs.

Third-class cities have no complaint to make, even though the general bill to remove the edges of the Clark act failed of passage. Civil service reform, police, firemen, engineers, electricians and building inspectors was provided in various bills, a measure was passed and signed advancing the time for the delivery of tax duplicates; appropriating money for music in parks and elsewhere was authorized and, finally, the commission government act was amended so as to permit the remaining members of council to fill a vacancy. In the event of the death, resignation or removal of a councilman, the annexation feature of the third-class city laws was also changed and the residence of the residents of a borough desired to be annexed the council of the particular ordinance is compelled to enact such an ordinance paying the city to annex. Under the old law it was discretionary with a borough council to enact an ordinance providing for the number of people who petitioned.

Some borough legislation also was placed upon the statute books. For instance, a bill was enacted giving boroughs the right to hire a borough manager. This is not obligatory, but may be tried by any borough. By a recent act, boroughs of boroughs may now succeed themselves. Other bills extending the time for the collection of taxes in boroughs were also passed. Not only did the legislature give the state highway department a larger appropriation than it has ever received, but through enabling acts it made it possible greatly to increase the mileage of permanent highways through co-operation in construction by the highway department, counties, boroughs and townships. The legislature passed new laws which make it possible for the state and its subdivisions to act in concert in the building of permanent roads, and the legislature permits the various subdivisions to bond themselves to cover the cost entailed.

Spaced forbidding even attempting to recite all the big laws passed at the recent session. For example, a code carrying all township laws, both first class and second-class townships was one of the bills gotten through on the final day. The direct inheritance tax law was passed and it is believed that as a result the revenues of the state will be increased many millions.

Hospitals Cared For.

The legislature gave splendid support to state and semi-state hospitals, as well as other institutions requiring aid for maintenance and improvements. No commonwealth takes care of its charities as well as Pennsylvania and it is a source of much satisfaction that the 1917 session not only upheld the good work of the past, but largely increased the amounts.

No person can say that the Philadelphia North American is a booster for the Republican organization of Pennsylvania, or the Republican legislature. The Philadelphia North American is a booster for the good work of the past, but largely increased the amounts.

Every department of the state government received a considerable largess or appropriation than from the last session. The amounts allowed in the general appropriation bill, together with the amount approved last session and the increases follow for the principal departments:

Millions For Institutions.

One of the largest cuts made by the legislature is in the state's share of maintaining indigent insane persons for the next two years, $800,000 of the estimated cost being shifted back to the counties by increasing their proportionate share of maintenance. The result was that instead of $4,750,000 the legislature appropriated $3,950,000. State institutions and charitable institutions which receive support from the state receive from this legislature a total of nearly $14,000,000.

In addition, big appropriations were made for State College which received $1,500,000; University of Pennsylvania, $1,000,000; University of Pittsburgh, $750,000; and Temple University, in Philadelphia, $200,000.

In addition to the $2,000,000 appro-prised for preparedness, military expenditures authorized by the legislature include $1,750,000 for the construction and maintenance of armories, $1,500,000 for the cost of maintaining the national guard of Pennsylvania, an amount double that appropriated two years ago, and a further appropriation of $252,800 for the equipment of the guard.

Some of the other important appropriations made by the legislature are: Abolition of grade crossings $250,000; Prison labor commission for installing manufacturing facilities in penal institutions 100,000; Mothers pensions 400,000; New buildings for western penitentiary, Centre county 600,000; Construction of new Western State Hospital for the insane, at Blairsville intersection, Westmoreland county 400,000; Construction of new State Homes for inebriates (site still to be located) 250,000; New construction and operation fund for institution for Feeble-Minded Women at Laurenton, Union county 100,000; Institution for Feeble-Minded and Epileptics, at Spring City, new construction 350,000; Appropriation to discontinue that for maintenance 350,000; To commission to select site for new Eastern State Hospital for the insane, probably in Delaware or Chester county 55,000; Construction of new bridge at Falls over Susquehanna river in Wyoming county 195,000; Construction of bridge over Susquehanna at Millersburg, 350,000; Appropriation to discontinue that for maintenance 100,000; Appropriation to extinguish mine fire at Carbonate which has been burning many years 75,000; Joint purchase of Delaware river toll bridges between Pennsylvania and New Jersey 200,000; Joint purchase of Delaware river toll bridges between Pennsylvania and New York, 500,000.

The performances comprise the world's best male and female riders, great herds of performing elephants, troupes of acrobats, aerialists, athletes, 20 different species of trained animals, troupes of Japanese and Arabians, Cossack horsemen, the largest collection of rare wild animals ever exhibited, prodigious pageants and tournaments, Olympic pastimes and a racetrack on which is presented speed contests and feats of endurance.

There will be all kinds of music, including a military band of 50 pieces, South American Marimba musicians, the original Dixie "Jas Band," and Scottish and Oriental reed pipers.
